Voters Care About Healthcare Access And Health System Reform

Healthcare access and health system reform are top issues of concern to voters in 2024. More than ever, people trust their local health care providers. The mission of Ask Nurses and Doctors is to organize local health care professionals to help elect competitive House and Senate candidates who have practical approaches to universal health insurance coverage.

America needs to pursue health system reform that provides affordable health insurance coverage and pharmaceutical prices, a reformed public health system, and global vaccine encouragement. AND has the expertise and track record to deliver effective reform.

AND Can Help Win the 2024 Elections

AND develops networks of health professionals. We then organize town hall meetings, video testimonials, op-eds / letters to the editor and press conferences, in person and online. This work and additional services are closely coordinated with political campaigns and/or grassroots organizations.

AND is currently working in Florida, Maine, Michigan and Pennsylvania, and will be active in all other swing states by the fall of 2023. By the winter of 2023, we will have 20 health professionals in each swing state ready to help elect competitive candidates.

We publish a regular monthly summary of patient experiences within our health care system, covering a range of critical topics including pharma prices and the lingering effects of Covid. We both support competitive candidates and advocate for effective policies pertaining to the many health care challenges affecting our country.

AND coordinates all aspects of local health professional efforts on behalf of candidates. Whatever the campaign needs that is related to health care, AND will deliver! Visit our website at asknursesdoctors.com.

Dr. Norbert Goldfield, founder and CEO of AND, is a practicing internist in Springfield, MA. Dr. Goldfield has published more than 50 books and articles on how to improve our health system. Dr. Goldfield worked for 30 years as medical director for a health care organization focused on linking better quality to payment. AND's Board of Advisors is a bipartisan group of national health care lead focused on linking better quality to payment.

In our five years of existence, AND has worked on approximately 25 House and Senate campaigns and on issues including abortion, pandemic policy, pharma prices, paid family medical leave and universal coverage.

As Congressman Jared Golden (Maine District 2) stated: "AND was easy to work with — disciplined, well connected with excellent health professionals and able to deliver on all asks from the campaign. In organizing over 100 local health care professionals, AND brought the needed health care credibility and expertise to my campaign organization."
